Reflection on the Divine Mercy

Divine Mercy is the heart of the Gospel — the expression of God's unfathomable love poured out for a broken world. At its core, it is not just a devotion or an image, but the very nature of God, who desires not our condemnation, but our healing.

When we reflect on the Divine Mercy, particularly through the image revealed to St. Faustina, we are invited to trust in Jesus completely — "Jesus, I trust in You." These words are simple, yet they challenge the deepest fears and wounds we carry. They are not a passive surrender, but an active choice to believe that no sin is too great, no soul too lost, and no darkness too deep for God's mercy to reach.

The rays in the Divine Mercy image — red for His blood, white for water — symbolize the sacraments that sustain us: the Eucharist and Baptism, but also the grace of Reconciliation. Mercy, then, is not only something we receive; it's something we are called to live and extend.

In a world that often seeks justice through punishment, the Divine Mercy calls us to forgive, to show compassion, and to remember that everyone is more than their worst moment. In the words of Jesus to St. Faustina: "The greater the sinner, the greater the right he has to My mercy." This is the scandal and beauty of God's love.

So we ask ourselves: Do I trust in God's mercy for my own failures? Do I extend that mercy to others — especially those who least seem to deserve it? Am I a channel of peace, or do I cling to resentment?

DIVINE MERCY SUNDAY

FAREWELL!

This weekend we offer our heartfelt thanks to our Seminarian Gabriel Nakonechny for the two blessed years he has spent with us here at OLA.

During this time, Gabriel has not only assisted in ministry but has truly become part of our parish family. Through his prayerful presence, generous service, and quiet dedication, he has reminded us of the beauty of a vocation rooted in faith, humility, and love for God's people.

We are grateful for the way he has shared his gifts among us—at the altar, in pastoral service, and in everyday encounters marked by kindness and sincerity. His time here has enriched our community, and we trust that our parish has also been a place of growth and discernment for him.

As he now moves forward in his formation, we assure him of our prayers. May the Lord who has begun this good work in him bring it to fulfillment, and may Our Lady continue to guide and protect him on his journey to the priesthood.

Thank you, Gabriel. You will always have a home here at OLA.
